

Staying Alert and Proactive

Being Mindful: An all-hazards approach in emergency management means thinking about the unthinkable.

With recent events happening abroad and the 10th anniversary of the 9/11 attacks, it is important for our business community to be ever watchful and to report any suspicious activity to local Law Enforcement Officials.

Certain activities inside or around a facility should place facility personnel on an elevated awareness level. Activities could include:

Individuals taking pictures or videos of access control points of a facility

Individuals asking questions about security personnel and specific operations of the facility

Individuals trying to access facilities with unauthorized employee identification cards, breaches in perimeter security or attempted breaches into building that may house sensitive or hazardous materials

Odd or out of place occurrences that have happened within a close time frame around or in the facility

Keep in mind that being alert and proactive can not only prevent or deter criminal activity, but it can also prevent or deter acts of terrorism.

And remember, the Arizona Counter Terrorism Information Center (ACTIC) has a program that says” If you see something, say something!”

Call 911 immediately to report suspicious activity in progress, or contact the ACTIC to report ongoing suspicious activities

Always remember...YOUR SAFETY COMES FIRST

NEVER attempt to make contact with, pursue or in any other way interfere with an individual or group of individuals whom you think are acting suspiciously.
